Learn About Our New Initiative to Transform the Future of Aging in Alberta

The AAG Futures Policy Forum 2022

Announcing our new initiative to transform the future of aging in Alberta. The Alberta Association on Gerontology (AAG) seeks policy change through collaborative action. We will hold free webinars starting in April 2022. Please join us in learning and achieving a positive impact on healthy aging in Alberta.

WHO

The Futures Policy Forum seeks change for all Albertans. Created by AAG, we seek to engage:

- older & younger persons of all genders, races, & religious beliefs
- policy makers & government workers
- caregivers & their families
- community service providers
- healthcare workers
- students across all disciplines
- and you!

We believe everyone has a stake in the future of healthy aging in Alberta.

WHY

The pandemic shone a spotlight on deficiencies in care and services for older Albertans. The MNP Report to Alberta Health set out a vision for healthy aging and quality of life for older Albertans. The report describes an innovative transformation plan, along with many recommendations for action. AAG wants to see actions that move beyond good intentions.

WHAT, HOW & WHEN

The Futures Policy Forum will facilitate conversation, learning and collaboration to identify meaningful policy change. Our Stakeholder Collaborative Committee will advocate for progressive action on the suggested policies.

FREE MONTHLY WEBINARS!

We will hold FREE monthly webinars with guest speakers, opportunities to contribute ideas and ask questions. The webinars begin on April 6th, 2022.

We envision a better future for aging in Alberta. We advocate for:

- more opportunities to age in place
- more services in the community
- more person-centered care in well-designed supportive environments.

Family caregivers & health care workers need & deserve more supports. We commit to helping older Albertans achieve a better quality of life as they age.

We hope you will join us & transform the future of healthy aging in Alberta! Find out more details on our website at: albertaaging.ca/futures-policy-2022/
